411D LASER DISTANCE METER

A professional-grade laser distance measuring tool that is fast, easy to use, and fits in your pocket.

The Fluke laser distance meters bring you the most advanced measuring technology. These meters are fast, accurate, durable, and easy to use — just point and shoot. Their straightforward design and easy, one-button operation mean you spend less time measuring. Unlike ultrasonic distance meters with laser pointers, the Fluke 411D uses a precision narrow laser beam that can avoid the common errors caused by extraneous objects near measurement targets. This compact and handy Fluke distance meter is designed for indoor, and limited outdoor applications. Addition, subtraction, area, and volume calculations could not be simpler. The extra bright laser is clearly visible so you can see your targeting point even if an object is hard-to-reach or distant. The Fluke 411D has a large LCD screen and buttons positioned for one handed measurements.

Specifications:
Range (for extended distances, use a target plate) 30 m, accuracy +/- 3 mm, automatic power off after 180 seconds

Included accessories:
Two AAA batteries, User's manual on CD, Quick start guide, Nylon carrying case

(nylon carrying case)
